Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 10-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO 02/060715 A1 (hereinafter referred to as WO'715).

Claims 10-20:

WO'715 (Figs. 1-4B; paragraphs [0013] – [0036]) discloses a control system for selecting automated transmission system shift strategy comprising:

- A drive machine (i.e., Fig. 1, element 18);
- A transmission (i.e., Fig. 1, element 12);
- A clutch (i.e., Fig. 1, element 20);
- An input brake (i.e., Fig. 1, element 29);
- A control device (i.e. Fig. 1, element 46);
- Wherein the control device makes a selection as a function of selection rules and vehicle parameters and variables as to whether the clutch remains engaged or disengaged when a gear change takes place from an original gear to an intended gear in the transmission (i.e., paragraphs [0029] – [0036]);
- Wherein, when the gear change is carried out with the clutch engaged, the control device operatively synchronizes a rotation speed of a transmission input shaft to an intended rotation speed of the intended gear by controlling the drive machine (i.e., paragraphs [0029] – [0036]);
- Wherein the control device carries out the gear change exclusively with the clutch disengaged after an initial starting-up of the drive train (i.e., paragraphs [0029] – [0036]);
- Wherein the control device carries out a test to determine whether the gear change can be carried out with the clutch engaged and makes the selection based on a result of the test (i.e., paragraphs [0029] – [0036]);

- Wherein the control device carries out the test as a function of vehicle parameters and variables (i.e., paragraphs [0029] – [0036]);
- wherein the vehicle parameters vary (i.e., paragraphs [0029] – [0036]);
- Wherein the control device operatively synchronizes the rotation speed of the input shaft to the intended rotation speed of the intended gear by using the input brake (i.e., paragraphs [0029] – [0036]);
- Wherein at the start of a downshift gear change, the clutch remains engaged, and the control device operatively drives an actuating element to deselect the original gear, determines a time since the driving of the actuating elements, monitors whether time exceeds a threshold without the original gear having been deselected, disengaged the clutch (i.e., paragraphs [0029] – [0036]); and
- Wherein the stated threshold is dependent on at least one of vehicle parameters, vehicle variables, and variables which describe an environment of the motor vehicle (i.e., paragraphs [0029] – [0036]).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 06 March 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue, page 4, second paragraph, of the REMARKS, filed on 06 March 2009, "Because the WO'715 reference does not describe or suggest carrying out a shift with the clutch disengaged when there is a malfunction or at the initial start up of the drive train, applicants respectfully submit that claim 10 is not anticipated and is allowable."

Examiner respectfully disagrees because the above argument does not accurately reflect the claimed limitation. Claim 10, lines 13-18 recite the method step:

“carrying out the gear change exclusively with the clutch disengaged under at least one of the following two situations:

after an initial starting-up of the drive train until all of the vehicle parameters and variables which are relevant for the selection have been determined by the control device, and when a malfunction is identified in a component of the drive train.”

Clearly, the claimed limitation is referring to “after an initial starting-up of the drive train”, not at the initial start up of the drive train as argued.

Since the claimed method step is written in alternative form, the applied reference WO’715 is required to meet only one of the alternatives.

As set forth above, WO’715 meets the claimed limitations.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
